District XII Middle School Workshop Chorus

Dan LeJeune is the Middle School Choral Director at The Blake School, in Hopkins, Minnesota, where he directs six choirs and co-teaches an integrated arts class for eighth grade. Prior to 1999, he taught vocal music in Maryland public schools for thirteen years, where he was designated the Howard County Music Educator of the Year in 1995. His school choirs have been chosen to perform for eight state, regional, or national music conferences. Mr. LeJeune has presented workshops at state conferences in Maryland, Minnesota, and Wisconsin and has conducted elementary and junior high school honors choirs at the district, county, or state levels in Maryland, Oklahoma, Virginia, and Minnesota.

A graduate of Peabody Conservatory and Bowling Green State University, Mr. LeJeune leads workshops and teaches summer classes that focus on elementary and middle school choral repertoire and techniques. He has been a visiting instructor at Colorado College, The University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, George Mason University, and the University of St. Thomas, where he has taught graduate courses during the summer since 1995.

District XII High School Women’s Chorus

Dr. Lauren Fowler-Calisto, Associate Professor and Director of Choral Studies and Vocal Jazz at Christopher Newport University in Newport News, Virginia. She is originally from the upper Midwest, where she taught on both public school and collegiate levels for over fifteen years and served as the Associate Director of Choirs and Specialist in Choral Music Education and Vocal Jazz at Iowa State University.

Dr. Fowler received her doctor of arts degree in choral conducting and vocal performance and pedagogy from the University of Northern Colorado. She also holds a bachelor of music education degree from Concordia College, Moorhead, Minnesota, where she worked with Paul J. Christiansen and sang in the Concordia Choir, and a master of music in performance degree from the University of Arizona, where she worked with Dr. Maurice Skones and sang with the Arizona Chamber Choir.

She is quite active as an adjudicator and guest conductor for high school, college, and middle school honor choirs, festival choirs, and jazz/show choirs. Dr. Fowler has appeared as the guest conductor for the New Hampshire All-State Jazz Choir, the Kentucky Collegiate Honors Choir at the 2001 Southern Division MENC convention, the South Dakota All-State Jr. High Honors Choir, and the Northern Kentucky Women’s High School Honors Choir. She has also directed the Virginia District IX, IV, and XI Women’s Honors Choirs in addition to the Prince William All-County SATB chorus and the District VIII SATB Honors Choir twice. Both her traditional and jazz choirs at the university and public school levels have been selected to perform at state conventions, including the CNU Chamber Choir (2003) and the CNU Women’s Chorus (2006) at the Virginia Music Educators State Conference.

District XII High School Mixed Chorus

Dr. Patrick Walders is the Director of Choral Activities at James Madison University in Harrisonburg, Virginia. He directs the highly select JMU Chorale (70 voices) and Madison Singers (25 voices); oversees the Men’s Chorus, Women’s Chorus, and Treble Chamber Choir; and teaches undergraduate and graduate conducting classes and graduate choral literature. For four seasons, he was the Associate Conductor of the National Philharmonic Chorale, and Artistic Director of the National Philharmonic Singers, the chamber choir formed from the nucleus of the Chorale which is based in the state-of-the-art Performing Arts Center at Strathmore. He made his National Philharmonic debut in December 2006, conducting Handel’s “Messiah,” and his Kennedy Center debut conducting John Hilliard’s “Piano Concerto No. 2” in January 2007.

As a baritone/countertenor, Dr. Walders has sung professionally throughout the northeastern United States as a soloist and chorister. He has been a soloist with the Buffalo Philharmonic, Westminster Choir, Shenandoah Valley Bach Festival, Manhattan Choral Ensemble, Alexandria Choral Society, University of Maryland Symphony, University of Georgia Symphony, Dartmouth College, and Princeton Chamber Players, among others. He has participated in recording projects with the American Boychoir School, The Choral Scholars, The National Cathedral, and New Jersey Symphony. In the Washington, D.C., area, he is a founding member of Viri Animarum, a six-voice male chamber choir focusing on music from the medieval through the present time, and is a member of the early music ensemble, “Orpheus,” directed by Philip Cave.

A native of Buffalo, New York, Dr. Walders earned his doctorate in conducting from the University of Maryland-College Park. He holds a bachelor’s degree in music education from the State University of New York (SUNY) College at Fredonia, taught public school (grades 7-12) in western New York, and earned a master’s degree in choral conducting from the Westminster Choir College. Dr. Walders has conducted many choral events and honor choirs for middle schools, high schools, and colleges throughout the northeastern United States.
